To Whom It May Concern,

I have never before written to promote a product used in this clinic, however one line of products have been used daily, tested on the toughest cases, and not found wanting for the past four years. This product line has become an integral part of clinic practice, being used in all cases of massage or soft tissue release prior to any manipulative techniques.

This group of products are the Nemidon Gels, produced in New Zealand and utilizing properties of our unique plants (seaweed) to enhance transdermal absorption of clinically proven herbals. The effectiveness of the All Black 'n Blue in particular has made clinical practice easier. It is a potent anti-inflammatory with speedy absorption and no lingering film of oil to cause problems during articulatory movements yet does not go tacky which can bother some clients. Who wants to suggest their clients go home for a shower after an osteopathic session? Many of my clients have been so impressed with the All Black 'n Blue they purchase the smaller bottle to take home for home based care of strains, inflammations, and of course the usual bumps and thumps suffered during sports, work, or life in general.

The best test of effectiveness is this. Use these products for four years, then run out of them. You'll be on the phone quick smart.

Regards,

Kim Phelps
